GRANITE SHOALS POLICE SEEKS PUBLIC INPUT CITY OF GRANITE SHOALS, Texas

GRANITE SHOALS, Texas. January 27, 2017, The Granite Shoals Police Department (GSPD) is seeking public input about their law enforcement services. Chief Gary Boshears believes that citizen feedback on law enforcement performance, contact, complaint, and customer service will help focus future endeavors.

The Department has established a citizen survey that can be taken online. The Department is asking citizens to go to <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/NXYBNR7> to take the survey. The survey should take about 10 minutes to complete.

"We want to hear from our citizens, get their opinions about how well the police department is doing its job, and how they feel about public safety in Granite Shoals", states Chief Boshears.

The Granite Shoals Police Department believes that citizen engagement and building community partnerships are essential to providing quality law enforcement services.

Chief Boshears continued, "This survey is one of our first steps in building a long term plan for the police department. The survey allows citizens to anonymously give us their opinion about the police department and public safety in Granite Shoals. We will use the data collected from this to see what areas our citizens feel we are doing well in and what areas we need to improve. Another step later in our planning process will be to have a town hall meeting where we hope to engage our citizens in a dialogue about public safety in Granite Shoals."

The survey is available online now and will be open through Friday, February 24th.
